

Business summary

BHL Builders (Oxford) Limited, celebrate 60 years of trading during 2013. In 1953, Ron Lewis formed the company R E Lewis General Builders. In 1976, he chose to retire and Ken Beesley, David Holmes and David Lewis (Ron's son) took over the running of the business. In 1990, the name changed to what it is today, incorporating the names of the aforementioned. In 1993, David Holmes resigned and David Sturt was promoted to the Board, coinciding with the Company relocating to its present site in Kidlington. Sadly, Ken Beesley passed away in 2005. Gary Brown was appointed Managing Director in 2012

Types of work undertaken

Work undertaken in both Public and Private sectors, on new-build, refurbishment and extensions on values up to and including £1m

Proud specialists in Heritage-based work

Achievements and awards

Safe Contractor accreditation

Professional Memberships

Members of the NHBC, SPAB, FMB and the Oxford shire Construction Training Group