

Business summary

Founded by Basil Wyatt in 1956, we are a local family business based in Oxford with more than 50 years' experience in building, restoring and refurbishing properties.

Our in-house team includes direct operatives as well as company directors, quantity surveyors, contracts managers, site managers, skilled tradesmen and office support staff.

We employ the services of local sub-contractors and suppliers whom we know to be reliable and take equal pride in their work.

We undertake projects within a 100-mile radius of Oxford.

Types of work undertaken

We have an excellent reputation for the quality of our work and have experience working on a wide range of projects for both the private and public sectors including residential, education, ecclesiastical, healthcare and leisure projects.

We work on projects with contract values varying between £250K and £6M.
